Infectious Diseases in Clinical Practice: Update on Inpatient and Outpatient Infectious Diseases

February 13-18, 2022 • Grand Hyatt Kauai • Kauai, Hawaii

Presented by the Department of Medicine, Division of Infectious Diseases, at the University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine, this course reviews clinically relevant topics in infectious diseases that are commonly seen in the inpatient and outpatient setting, and will include updates in COVID-19.

TARGET AUDIENCE

The course is designed to meet the needs primary care physicians and providers, family physicians, general practitioners, hospitalists, internists, nurse practitioners, pediatricians, clinical pharmacists, and other health professionals who diagnosis, manage, or treat infectious diseases in the inpatient or outpatient settings.

OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the activity an attendee will be able to:

- Apply knowledge and principles to diagnose, manage, and treat common infections encountered in clinical practice such as skin and soft tissue infections, respiratory tract infections, urinary tract infections, gastrointestinal infections, endocarditis, staphylococcal infections, nosocomial infections, sexually transmitted infections, and infections of the central nervous system;
- Incorporate into his or her practice the diagnosis, management, treatment, and prevention of COVID-19 infection;
- Identify and manage less common infections such as infections in immunocompromised patients and infections associated with travel;
- Incorporate into their practice the use of antimicrobial agents including an understanding of their efficacy and appropriate usage for prevention and treatment of bacterial, viral, and fungal infections;
- Apply the basic principles of antimicrobial stewardship to everyday clinical practice in the inpatient and outpatient setting.

ACCREDITATION

The University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine (UCSF) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

UCSF designates this live activity for a maximum of 21.50 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This CME activity meets the requirements under California Assembly, Bill 1195, continuing education and cultural and linguistic competency.
